

DAY OBSERVED IN APPROPRIATE WAY

Graves Of Soldiers Are Decorated
And Exercises Are Held In Court House Wednesday

ADDRESS BY GIBSON WILSON

Founding, Saving And Maintaining Of Nation Is Subject Of Memorial Day Address

Memorial Day was celebrated in the customary manner Wednesday, with representatives of all of the patriotic orders participating in the ceremony of decorating the graves of departed war veterans at East Hill cemetery in the morning, and with services held in the court house assembly room in the afternoon, at which the Rev. Gibson Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church made the principal address.

A shortage of flowers due to the late season made the supply available for decorating the graves insufficient, but the committees having this work in charge made the best of the situation and attempted to place flowers on all of the graves that were marked with small American flags, as the graves of former soldiers were thus designated.

The four color bearers and the patriotic instructor of the W. R. C. together with a number of school children, marched to the cemetery in the morning for the ceremony there. The W. R. C. service was held at the soldier's monument and then at the side of the small stream that runs through the cemetery, for the unknown dead.

The Rev. L. E. Brown of the Main Street Christian church closed the service at the monument with prayer and the Rev. E. G. McKibbin of the First United Presbyterian church made the closing prayer at the ceremony held at the edge of the water.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson in the afternoon address at the court house discussed the founding, the saving and the maintaining of this government, for which thousands of men have given their lives.

The speaker pointed out that national liberty was the aim of the early patriots who were successful in establishing what was destined to be the greatest nation on the earth and when the division of the nation threatened, and it fell to Lincoln's lot to save the nation, the keynote of the age was individual liberty.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson emphasized the civil war president for his fidelity of purpose and for the credit he deserved in preventing the nation from being divided. He referred to the significance of Grant and Lee's victory and vanquished, shaking hands at the conclusion of hostilities, as indicating that the future would be peaceful.

In referring to the maintenance of the nation and its ideals, which duty fell to the present generation, the Rev. Mr. Wilson mentioned the Spanish-American war and the part it played in removing island of the sea from the tyranny of the old world.

He also spoke of the world war as the maintaining of America's world interest and asserted that in the days of reconstruction, it was the duty of every true American to perform a living service.

Clifton Walters of Morristown Sues
C. I. & W. Railroad

Clifton Walters of Morristown, has filed a damage suit in the circuit court at Shelbyville against the C. I. & W. railroad, demanding $2,500 judgment, as the result of an automobile accident at the crossing in Morristown last November.

Mr. Walters alleges in his complaint that he was driving a gas and oil truck and reached the railroad crossing, when a train crashed into his outfit and demolished the truck. He alleges that the train crew operated the train carelessly and failed to sound a warning as they approached the crossing. It is also charged that the signal bell at the crossing failed to work, and gave evidence of a clear crossing.

She had been in an alarming condition at the Dr. Frank Green hospital here for two weeks, following the operation which had been delayed too long resulting in a bursted appendix. She expired yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. The husband, two children and two stepchildren survive.

The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at two o'clock at the Hannigan church, with burial in the cemetery nearby.

Mrs. Phuma May Arnold was 42 years old, and was the wife of James Arnold, who lives four miles west, and a short distance south of this city. She underwent treatment for tumor at the Dr. Sexton hospital but she failed to withstand the serious operation and expired last

The brigands, it is said have decided to let the foreigners go without ransom, although they expect to hold Chinese prisoners for whose release they are demanding heavy payments.

Washington, May 31.—If Henry Ford would play the game according to the rules Democratic politicians lay down for him, he should have the Democratic nomination for vice president in 1924.

Ford will refuse the vice presidential nomination if it is offered to him.

He will refuse to play the political game according to any set of ancient rules made by party politicians.

He doesn't care a whoop for party loyalty or party services, or even for parties by all of which the politicians set great store.

Democratic politicians are worried about Ford for president movement which their experienced observers tell them is sweeping the west and middle-west. Publicly contemptuous toward Ford and his possibility, in private leading Democrats have given earnest con-

Miss Alma Korengel of Chicago
Confers With Rushville And Greensburg Teachers

EXPLAINS SCHOOL'S PURPOSE

Miss Alma Korengel of the religious education department of the Presbyterian church, who held a conference with Rushville and Greensburg Daily Vacation Bible school teachers here Wednesday afternoon, remained over today to help the teachers in the Rushville school get started.

The school was started this week at the First Presbyterian church and now has an enrollment of forty children. More are expected as children outside of the congregation will be admitted for the work free of charge. A similar school was held at this church last summer and proved very successful.

Miss Korengel, who will conduct a large school in Chicago this summer, was to leave late today for Fort Wayne to continue the organization of similar schools. She explained that they were for the purpose of correlating the child's religious and school education.

Every day the children in each of the three departments—kindergarten, primary and junior, have a Bible study period. Bible stories are used the same way that other stories are applied in school work.

HEAVY DAMAGE DUE TO SPREADING FIRE

Cut Pulp Wood, Lumber Camps And Barges Valued at Many Thousands of Dollars Destroyed

SETTLEMENTS ARE MENACED

St. Paul, Minn., May 31.—Cut pulp wood, lumber camps and barges valued at many thousands of dollars have been destroyed by forest fires in the Kabetogema district, according to reports to lumber companies in the Twin Cities today.

It is planned to have the tax collected directly from the wholesaler. Some wholesalers including the Standard Oil company have indicated that they will go fifty-fifty with the consumer and assume half the burden of the new tax.

Retail dealers and owners of filling stations are required to report to the state auditor the amount of gas they have on hand when the law takes effect, after which the collection will be taken care of by the wholesale dealers.

Brancen estimates that the gas tax will yield the state between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 annually, on the basis of the amount of gasoline consumed last year.

This revenue will go toward paying for the road construction program now being worked out by the state highway commission.

FOR CHILD DESERTION

Oscar Reppert of this city was arrested Wednesday night by Patrolman Lakin and placed in jail upon request of authorities at Lafayette, Ind., where a warrant was sent here, charging him with child desertion. Sheriff J. B. Jackson of Lafayette wired this morning that he would be here and return the prisoner to that city where he is charged in the circuit court.

Dortmund, May 31.—German vigilantes are conducting a ruthless campaign against communist agitators in the Ruhr today as numbers of strikers return to work.

Known "red" strongholds are being cleared, communist leaders are being jailed and radical papers and documents seized.

Settlement of differences between workers and industrialists, however, appears to be only a temporary arrangement.

Wage increases approximating 50 percent have been granted, but the falling value of the mark may force new demands.

Arrangements are being made in Essen for return of the metal workers. The banks there have resumed paying workers. The French have seized state mine Bismarck No. 1.

CLAUDE KITCHEN DIES AT WINSTON

One of Most Influential Characters in House of Representatives
Expires in Hospital

IN PUBLIC LIFE 22 YEARS

Illness Dated Back to War Days
When He Developed Serious Ailment From Overwork

Wilson, N. C., May 31—Claude Kitchen, noted Democratic leader died at a hospital here early today.

Kitchen, Democratic leader in the House had been ill for a long time with stomach trouble.

He had a relapse several days ago with what appeared to be an improvement in his condition. His death came at 6:10 a. m.

Kitchen's death removes one of the most influential characters in the house.

He was born near Scotland, Neck, Halifax county, N. C., March 24, 1869, the son of Wm. H. Kitchen, a member of the 46th congress and Mary F. (Arrington) Kitchen. He graduated from Wake Forest college in June, 1888, with the degree of bachelor of laws, and in the same year married Miss Kate Mills. He was admitted to the North Carolina bar in September, 1890.

Kitchen never held public office before his election to the 57th congress as a Democrat from the second North Carolina district in November, 1900 but once having donned the harness he never left it. He was successively re-elected to every congress after the 57th and at the time of his death was member-elect of the sixty-eighth congress, the twelfth consecutive congress his constituents returned him to, and the twelfth house member in length of service, with 22 years.

Kitchen worked himself up through the Democratic ranks in the house to the chairmanship of the powerful ways and means committee. When Champ Clark was speaker during the 64th and 65th congresses, Kitchen became majority floor leader. He relinquished the position of Democratic leader to Clark when the Republicans regained control of the house in the 66th congress. Upon Clark's death Kitchen succeeded to the minority floor leadership which he nominally held at the time of his death, though during his prolonged illness the function was performed by Representative Garrett of Tennessee.

Kitchen's illness dates back to war days, when he, like all other congressional leaders, was under a tremendous strain of labor. Kitchen worked day and night, and as a result developed nervous indigestion which became a more serious form of stomach trouble.

A year ago, Kitchen was virtually forced to retire.

He had been in the hospital for several weeks and it became apparent soon after his admission to the institution that his vitality was so low that his death was only a matter of time.

Two days ago Kitchen's physicians gave up all hope.

His family was at the bedside when Kitchen died.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Bible Thoughts memorized, will prove a precious heritage in after years.

ALL NEEDS SUPPLIED—

The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.—Psalm 23: 1, 6.

Too Much Bag

Between President Harding on the affirmative, Senator Borah on the negative, and other senators and congressmen vacillating between and between, the country is becoming well fed up on the subject of active American participation in the league of nations or some other kind of a world court.

And perhaps it is just as well that the subject is being agitated on both sides of the fence, for we do not want to do any leaping without first looking to see where we will land.

To the average man on the side lines, though, it would seem that we have participated rather strenuously as it is—partly to our sorrow.

We commenced by leading the allies billions of dollars which have never been repaid, and much of which probably never will be repaid.

Next we entered actively into the war at a time when the allies were practically facing defeat—and we turned that defeat into victory.

Then we sold France many millions of dollars worth of war munitions and stores for a song, and we do not know whether that bill has been paid or not.

And last, at the urgent solicitation of the allies, we kept General Allen and his army in Germany until a short time ago. We were to have been reimbursed for the expense of keeping them there, but the allies have prevented such reimbursement and have only recently sanctioned payment.

Europe is sadly in need of some kind of a court capable of maintaining the peace and restoring the self-respect of the world but no such court will be of any avail until European governments, or at least some of them, forsake their present grasping and selfish attitudes and return to the paths of honor among nations and peoples.

If the time ever comes when these foreign governments regain their sanity it is possible that the American people will have no material objection to becoming an active participant in a world court.

But until we can see some evidence of sanity on the other side of the Atlantic we will do well to keep ourselves and our money at home.

We have held the bag long enough.

Building Costs

A common expression is, "I won't build now as cost of construction is too high."

Incomes have increased proportionately to cost of construction and the man who does not demand every new fangled contraption can build with his present-day income and have a larger margin left than would have been possible in 1913.

Don't blame the present building costs entirely on to lumber and labor. Remember that in nine cases of ten your ideas of what you want have expanded with your income and you would not be satisfied today with the 1913 bungalow.

Taxes at $100, insurance at $30, repairs and upkeep at $100 and 7 percent interest on a $5,000 house amounts to $580 a year.

If you pay $50 a month rent for nine years you have $5400 worth of rent receipts worth nothing. If you put $50 a month into a home for five years, even if it was necessary to cut out a few theatre parties or clothes to make up interest etc., until the property was paid for you would have an asset worth probably more than $5400 at the end of nine years and your family would have a roof over its head which could not be taken away from them for failure to pay a month's rent.

Don't kid yourself, you can own a home as well today as you could ten years ago if you want to. It is not the cost of building that will prevent you, it is the cost of satisfying your inflated demands for luxuries and modern extravagances.

The Hodge-Podge
By a Paragrapher with a Soul

The modern flapper is not always what she's painted.

The man who can drive an automobile through the congested traffic that prevails nowadays is entitled to the gold medal for self restraint.

Everything is all right in its place except the cinder that flies in the passenger's eye.

Lots of country folks go to the city just to learn how much they appreciate the country.

Women should make better flies than men, due to their proclivities for going up.

If it is true that the streets of heaven are paved with gold, we can very readily see why some men object to suggestions that they go to the other extreme.

By remembering that charity covers a multitude of sins, it may be possible to understand why some folks are unduly generous.

Mr. and Mrs. James Riddle will entertain at Sunday dinner at their country residence west of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pitman and daughter Louise, Miss Jennie Riddle, and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Feudner.

Will Winship, Flossie Newkirk, Dick Hogsett and Josephine Newkirk of Chicago will be entertained at a six o'clock dinner tomorrow evening at the Reed House in Fayetteville.

The Manila orchestra, assisted by Miss Norma Smith, of this city, will give a concert in the Christian church at Manila tonight. Miss Smith is the talented young daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Will C. Smith, and many high salaried performers are traveling about the country who cannot give as entertaining and interesting program as the little miss.

During the storm yesterday afternoon the horse hitched to the Weeks' meat delivery wagon, and driven by Ralph Mattox, became frightened at a thunderbolt and started to run. As it turned the corner at Fifth and Sexton street it ran into a tree tearing a wheel off the chariot. In the heavy downpour of rain Mattox had to unhitch the horse and walk half scared and drowned when he accomplished this.

Mull Sampson, the eight-year-old son of Horatio Sampson, living three miles west of this city, had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday. A vicious horse kicked at the boy, one of its hoofs knocking off his hat while the other struck him on the shoulder, barely grazing it, inflicting a painful injury.

Mrs. Frank Gates of East Fourth street is seriously ill with kidney and heart trouble.

Three Persons Wounded By Unidentified Man In Chicago Theatre

Chicago, May 31.—An unidentified man who returned to the National burlesque theatre and fired six shots into the audience, wounding three persons, after having ejected last night, was sought by police today.

The gunman was put out of the theatre by Samuel Isaacs, in another door and snapped a revolver at Isaacs, the cartridge failed to explode.

As Isaacs dived under the seat, the assailant sprayed the crowd with six shots, starting a panic and then fought his way out through an entrance door.

CARRY CHILDREN TO SAFETY

Four Nurses Saved Crippled and Sick in Hospital Fire

(By United Press)

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 31.—Four nurses, fighting their way through flames and smoke, carried sixty-seven crippled and sick children to safety when fire partly burned the Children's hospital here today.

The children were taken from the burning building while still asleep. John Cosnill, engineer, risked his life to reach the power house and close an open gas cock and thereby avert an explosion and saving two concrete wings.

The fire which started from an explosion of a hot water heater, destroyed the main part of the hospital, at a loss of $60,000. Sixteen children were injured or overcome by the flames.

necessary for him to remain in jail all summer, since the grand jury does not meet until next October.

The arrest of Caron came very unexpectedly late in the afternoon of May 7, after an investigation of a story given to them to the effect that the Rushville young man had exhibited to Oream Snyder of this city a quantity of stamps, buried near the bridge near East Hill cemetery, which he is said to have confided in Snyder were looted from the Rushville post office robbery.

The case against him, collapsed, however when the post office inspectors were unable to uncover any of the loot. They made repeated expeditions to the scene of the alleged burying ground, but were never able to find a trace of anything resembling postage or revenue stamps, it was reported at the time.

However, Caron was taken to Indianapolis on Tuesday afternoon, and was bound over to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Charles W. Moore for an investigation. His bond was fixed at $7,500 and efforts to provide it failed.

Up to that time the case had never been brought to the attention of Judge Anderson. It is said that when the matter did come up to him for decision, the post office inspectors were divided on whether Caron should be held for an investigation, but decided that the Rushville boy should be released, which was done.

sideration to means of making Ford do one of two things. These are:

1.—Establish himself as "regular" Democrat and by performing service for the party welfare.

2.—Eliminate himself from consideration as a Democratic nominee.

They cannot figure out a way to do either, simply because Ford will not play politics the way the politicians are used to playing it.

Recognizing Ford's popular strength, various Democratic candidates would like to make a deal with him to accept the vice presidential nomination. They have received no dejection. Ford said he is not interested in the presidency. The Democrat politicians do not believe him but they know he is not interested in the vice presidency.

Samuel L. Trabue made a short talk as a representative to the third popularity has gotten no where thus far. Indications are that Ford does not want to tie to any man or any movement that is cluttered up with "side issues" like political revenge.

In fact, if he gets into the presidential campaign either as Democratic nominee, or as independent, Ford will run on the most "unpolitical" platform and by means of the most unpolitical methods ever seen in American politics, his friends say.

At Princess Again Today

Six beautiful artists' models, three Muses, Spanish Gypsy musicians, and other character types appear in the gorgeous banquet scene of Gloria Swanson's new Paramount Picture, "My American Wife" — a Sam Wood production which comes to the Princess again today.

Light effects which are unusually charming add to the beauty of the setting, which represents a dilettante's home built on the art studio idea, in Buenos Aires.

In a sort of alcove, three lovely girls as muses, play on harps and other instruments. Across the center of the room, which is divided by three arched openings, are drawn heavy red plush hangings, which when pulled aside disclose the banquet hall with oval tables and in the center an opening with a rounabout upon which the winning race horse, garlanded with flowers is led into the center of the room, where is provided a great antique Spanish chest containing choice viands of an equine nature.

Jack Dillon, who formerly di-

based on a story by Hector Turnbull. Antonio Moreno plays the leading masculine role.

Coming Soon To Mystic

More real thrills per foot of film are seen in the latest Richard Talmadge Production, "The Cub Reporter," than in any feature production or serial heretofore shown on the screen, and which will be seen at the Mystic on Saturday.

Richard Talmadge, cast as Dick Harvey of the Morning Times, is called upon to do one daredevil stunt after another in his efforts to recover the Sacred Jewel of Buddha. He gets into a series of remarkable adventures. He dives head first through a skylight into the den of the Tong and gets away with the Jewel. Then he bravely dives through the underground passages of the Chinese underworld to rescue the girl stolen by the Tong and held as a hostage for the return of the jewel. Such fights and stunts as were never before attempted on the screen, though all byways, underground passages and over roof's risking death in every stunt.

Jack Dillon, who formerly directed Mary Pickford in "Suds," Jack Pickford in "A Burglar by Proxy," etc., seemed a perfect picturization of this thrilling comedy drama.

Think of Oil in Terms of 1923

In considering the oil business as it is today, we must think in terms of 1923 and not in terms of 1913—which was before such unheard of impetus had been given to the automotive industry.

In 1913 there were but 1,287,000 motor vehicles registered in the United States, while the year ending December 31, 1922, saw a total registration of 12,239,114—an increase of 900%.

The magnitude of the oil business is so vast that no man can visualize it clearly. It is difficult to picture the needs of 12 1/4 million automobiles, to say nothing of the vast gallonage needed to supply tractors, stationary gas engines, and the demand for gasoline coming from the arts and industries generally.

The problem of supplying 12 1/4 million cars is quite different from the problem confronting the industry a decade ago when but 1 1/4 million cars were in commission.

The adaptation to a changing situation meant the making over of the petroleum industry.

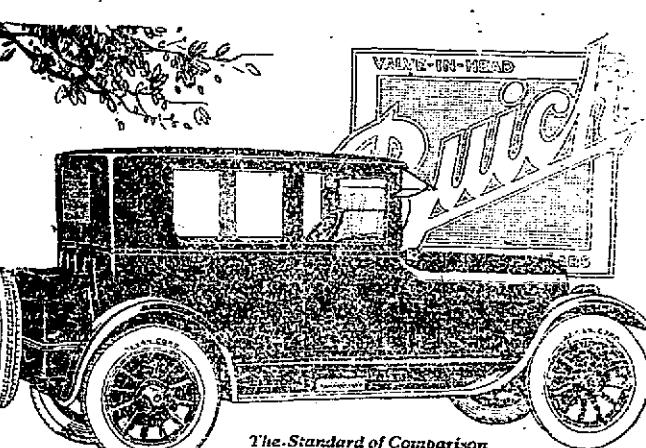

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has retained its leadership by expanding its facilities both in the manufacture and distribution rapidly enough to meet the instant demand for greater service.

During the past ten years the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has grown as the need for its products and service has grown. This ever-increasing demand for petroleum products has made it necessary for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to expand its facilities to an extraordinary degree. Yet, with its multiplied facilities, the Company finds that all its energies are absorbed in meeting the demand for its products from 30 million people in the ten Middle Western States it serves.

While proud of the service it has rendered in the past, the Standard Oil Company today is thinking in terms of 1923 and the years to come.
